LAWYERS IN A QUANDARY

No Chief Counsel Designated
and Eight Lawyers
Working Without a Head
—Don't Know Who is To Pay Bills.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Sherbrooke, Aug. 23.—Rumors of a possible attempt to "rescue" Harry K. Thaw from the prison here so alarmed the Provincial authorities today that Sir Lower Gouin, premier of the province telegraphed to Sheriff Aymler, asking that officials to give his opinion as to whether the ordinary staff at the prison was protection enough against a "raid."

The sheriff pointed out that the display of usual precautions against rescue might only serve to suggest such an attempt to the prisoner or his friends, or even to irresponsible persons in search of adventure or eager to get some of the Thaw money, which has been prominent in Canadian accounts of the case. The sheriff was emphatic in his assertion that no more guards were needed at the jail.

Thaw's group of Canadian lawyers, nearly all of whom were retained by telegraph found themselves today confronting three questions.

First—Who was in charge of his case?

Second—From whom were they to receive their fees?

Third—With whom are they to consult pending Thaw's arraignment in the Superior court on Wednesday next in a writ of habeas corpus?

When Mr. and Mrs. George L. Carnegie arrived here Wednesday night after Thaw's arrest at Coaticook as a fugitive from Mattewan it was understood they would take charge of his case and that from them counsel would receive instructions as to the desires of the Thaw family. But when Mr. and Mrs. Carnegie left Sherbrooke, Thaw resumed his old tactics and his eight lawyers were in a quandary today as to who was chief counsel.

Ostensibly J. M. Greenfield of Montreal held precedence among the group of those fighting in Thaw's behalf, but he had nothing in writing to indicate this and with Thaw's growing tendency to take matters in his own hands as was the case at all of his habeas corpus hearings in New York, the lawyers were puzzled as to the outcome.

Thaw money, reported to be surging toward Sherbrooke, had not arrived in the concrete today and the Thaw lawyers were endeavoring to obtain a statement from someone identified with the Thaw interests as to just who was responsible for any expenses incurred.

Thaw will probably never have a hearing on the habeas corpus writ procured by his counsel, according to a statement by one of them today.

deputy attorney general to look after the Thaw extradition case, has been instructed to proceed at once to Canada in this connection. He will reach Sherbrooke tomorrow. This announcement came this morning from the office of the attorney general.

Wild Man Kept
A Neat Camp in California Woods

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
San Francisco, Aug. 23.—A wild man was caught yesterday in Marinco, across the bay from San Francisco by Sheriff Keating and a deputy and will be held at the county jail in San Rafael pending an inquiry to determine whether he is sane.

The officers stumbled upon his camp by accident and had no difficulty in arresting him. His few clothes, which were of American make, were fashioned into the semblance of a Turkish costume.

The camp revealed a curious combination of primitiveness and civilized equipment. It was built around three big hollow trees, one of which was used for sleeping quarters. The floor was carpeted with the skins of animals. In another tree the wild man had rigged up a kitchen. The third tree was the storehouse and contained quantities of nuts and dried berries. Nearby was a potato patch, carefully cultivated.

JAR MEN STRIKE
AT INDIANAPOLIS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Indianapolis, Aug. 23.—A strike of interurban trainmen on the four systems entering Indianapolis, apparently not well organized, went into effect at 4 o'clock this morning, upon the refusal of the interurban companies to reply to the request of the new union's grievance committee for arbitration of the men's demands for nine-hour day and higher wages.

Police men guarded every interurban car that went out of this city. Interurban officials declared none of the companies is hampered in the least and that all cars are moving. The strike began in desultory fashion, each refusing to take their runs when called in the customary way.

Blow Did It.

Los Angeles, Aug. 23.—John W. (Bull) Young, Jr., the prize fighter, who was knocked out last night by Jesse Willard, died today at the hospital where an operation was performed early today to relieve cerebral hemorrhage. The surgeons who performed the operation gave concussion of the brain as the cause of death.

Willard, who has been placed under technical arrest after the fight last night, pending the outcome of Young's injuries, was taken into custody by Deputy Sheriffs on a charge of manslaughter immediately after Young died.

The promoters of the fight, Thos. J. McCarey and Al. Greenwald and the referee, Charles Eylon, gave themselves up to the authorities when they learned of Young's death. It was said they would be held as accessories. Young suffered from a cerebral hemorrhage produced by a violent fall to the canvas in the eleventh round when Willard put him down with a terrific right hook to the jaw. When he failed to respond to the treatment of his second in the ring, Young was placed in an ambulance and rushed to a hospital in Los Angeles. An operation was prescribed for him at once. After removing a clot on the brain, the doctors stated that there was a slight chance for his recovery.

Young came to Los Angeles less than a year ago, as sparring partner of the late Luther McCarty. Young's home is at Glenn Rock, Wyo.

Willard was technically under arrest today. Earl Rogers, the Pacific Athletic Club attorney, has promised the authorities to produce him in event of Young's death.

OROZCO, MEXICAN REBEL, SHOT TO DEATH BY ZAPATA

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New Orleans, Aug. 23.—The bodies of Pasquel Orozco, sr. and other peace commissioners, riddled with bullets were found in Hauautla, Guerrero, when the federal troops forced an entrance into that town, according to a special cable despatch from Mexico City to the Playmate this morning. According to the cable, Zapata's prisoners told the soldiers that Emiliano Zapata slew the commissioners with his own hand, while he was in a frenzy of anger at having been forced to again abandon the retreat which had served him in many times of stress during the two years he has been closely pursued.

EMPEROR WILLIAM
JOINS TEETOTALLERS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Berlin, Aug. 23.—Emperor William is reported to have joined the ranks of teetotalers. It is known that during his recent northern cruise the emperor abandoned use of practically all alcoholic beverages and it is said he has foresworn permanently the Fatherland's famous beer and its choicest wines. As a substitute he has taken to lemonade with a dash of orange juice. In imperial circles it has been long known that Emperor William was impressed with statistical study of the effect of alcohol, ranging from incitement to crime to impairment of man's working efficiency.

The loss caused by the fire is estimated at $125,000 covered by insurance.

NEWARK BIDS WELCOME TO GERMAN-AMERICAN
ALLIANCE DELEGATES

Nearly a Thousand Ohio Men Representing Various Ohio Cities Escorted to Headquarters
By the Buckeye Band

CITY IS PRETTILY DECORATED FOR THE OCCASION

Keen Disappointment Felt By Local Committee When It Was Announced That National President Hexamer Probably Not Attend This Meeting—Convention Sessions Opened At High School Auditorium—Outing Sunday Afternoon.

HERMANN ELSNER,
President of Newark German-American Alliance.

JULIUS JUCH,
Secretary Newark German American Alliance.

Nearly a thousand delegates to the state convention of the German-American Alliance are in Newark and ready for the reception tonight marking the beginning of activities. As early as 8 a. m. many delegations were on the ground.

Several hundred from Toledo, Fostoria, Tiffin, Mansfield, and other points along the northern division of the B. and O. system arrived at 8:10. The reception committee, with the Buckeye band, marched from Schaller hall in West Main street to the B. and O. station to meet them and escort them to headquarters.

Cincinnati, Hamilton, Dayton and other Southern Ohio delegations arrived by special train over the Pennsylvania at 11 o'clock. Columbus and Springfield crowds came in on the Ohio Electric. Delegates from the eastern part of the state arrived at 5 a. m. over the Pennsylvania.

Schaller hall, headquarters of convention officers, and other downtown places displayed Old Glory and the black, white and red of "Der Vaterland," side by side. German national airs and folk songs were used by the band escorting the arriving delegates.

Considerable disappointment was felt among delegates when it was learned early Saturday that National President Hexamer of Philadelphia probably would be unable to get to Newark on account of other engagements. Up to late Saturday he had not arrived.

Several prominent Ohio Germans are here to participate in the programs. Among them are State Representative Herman Fellingner of Cleveland, and State Senator F. Hillekamp of Toledo. A number of members of the national board or the organization of brewery workers came with the big Cincinnati delegation, which arrived by special excursion train shortly after noon.

Among the early delegations to put in appearance were thirty from Columbus, twenty from Tiffin, eighty from Toledo, forty from Akron, twenty from Mansfield, thirty from Steubenville and ten from Coshocton.

Early arrivals were served breakfast in Schaller hall, while the Buckeye band played German folksongs.

State President John Schwaab of Cincinnati in his annual report submitted to the convention of the German-American Alliance this afternoon demanded that the Alliance take up the gauntlet thrown down by the Ohio Anti-Saloon League and answer the league's threat, to make the state of Ohio dry, with the firm declaration: "You shall not make the state of Ohio dry."

Referring to the new license law, President Schwaab stated in his report that the act, though far from satisfying all the elements interested and involved, may be considered a step in the right direction, calculated to abolish the continual agitation of the liquor question. He then continued:

conductive to the furtherance of ideals. Our members for the most part belong to the so-called middle-class, artisans and workmen. Their future must be made secure.

"What would the results of prohibition be? Thousands upon thousands, and not only those directly employed in the manufacture and sale of spirituous liquors, would be without their livelihood. Times are hard enough, as the reports of social workers in the larger cities of the country prove. Shall the misery be multiplied by throwing additional hundreds of thousands upon the streets. Is it not about time to call a halt to blind hatred and fanaticism? Have we no other aim and purpose than the blind chase after ideals?"

"Our opponents will not rest until the decisive battle in the liquor question has been fought. Are you willing to play the coward, and desert your colors? It is our duty, regardless of the question of personal liberty, to protect those of the same faith with us."

"The anti-saloon league has always accused us, and falsely so, of being merely the tail of the brewers kite. I now recommend, that we furnish the head and spirit of a movement to make an end to blind and destructive fanaticism."

"Let us take up the gauntlet thrown down and answer the threat of the intolerant with the cry: 'You shall not make the state of Ohio dry.'"

President Schwaab also recommended support to the movement to change the system of representation in the state legislature.

MULHALL TELLS LOBBY PROBERS
ABOUT M'DERMOTT

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Aug. 23.—Marion M. Mulhall testified to the House lobby committee today that Representative McDermott told him he received $3,000 from brewery interests during the 1912 campaign for "something that was to be done here."

Mulhall swore that John A. McDermott of New York, a cousin of the representative, a Mr. Fleming, a brewer's agent and brother-in-law of the congressman, and J. H. McMichael, one time chief clerk of the House, so told him about the $2,000. Representative McDermott told him his cousin promised $5,000. The Senate committee will begin Tuesday with continuous session until it has finished the Mulhall end of its investigation.

HUSBAND TIRED OF SEEING HER SUFFER

Procured Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which made His Wife
a Well Woman.

Middletown, Pa.—"I had headache, backache and such awful bearing down pains that I could not be on my feet at times and I had organic inflammation so badly that I was not able to do my work. I could not get a good meal for my husband and one child. My neighbors said they thought my suffering was terrible. "My husband got tired of seeing me suffer and one night went to the drug store and got me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and told me I must take it. I can't tell you all I suffered and I can't tell you all that your medicine has done for me. I was greatly benefited from the first and it has made me a well woman. I can do all my housework and even helped some of my friends as well. I think it is a wonderful help to all suffering women. I have got several to take it after seeing what it has done for me."—Mrs. EMMA ESPENSHADE, 219 East Main St., Middletown, Pa.

The Pinkham record is a proud and honorable one. It is a record of constant victory over the obstinate ills of woman—ills that deal out despair. It is an established fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored health to thousands of such suffering women. Why don't you try it if you need such a medicine?

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

As a twenty-five years ago. I was a personal favor for all it may concern, we will ask you in the future to kindly refrain from publishing the birth announcements of twenty-five years ago.

LABOR NOTES

Sunday morning will be the last regular meeting time before Labor Day and delegates should all be present. All arrangements are about completed for one of the largest Labor Day celebrations Newark ever had. At the last meeting, August 10, good reports were received from the committees.

The following communication was received from the Erie Metal Trades council, Erie, Pa.:

"The Erie Metal Trades council, representing the molders, pattern-makers, polishers, machinists and other mechanics, and the Erie Metal Trades council fraternity request that all mechanics along these lines stay away from Erie until a settlement has been effected."

The local assembly officers have important matters to take up with delegates and insist upon attendance of all delegates.

Heiseys and C. M. A. Fight for Championship

Sunday afternoon at 3 p. m. the C. M. A. and Heisey's will play their second game of the city championship series. Heisey's won the first game on August 3 by the score of 6 to 1. The C. M. A. boys will have to win Sunday to even up the series.

The two teams are evenly matched and will have out their strongest batting orders so a fast game is assured.

Owing to dissatisfaction of umpires on August 3, Empire Benner of Columbus will officiate. Miller will pitch and either Gephart or Beeneey catch for Heiseys, while young "Lefty" Nollies will probably pitch and Smoot catch for the C. M. A. boys.

When All Else Fails Goodhair Soap Cures Barbers' Itch.

"Will you kindly send me a cake of your celebrated 'Goodhair' soap, for which I am enclosing 25 cents in stamps. Have been sending to Dayton for the soap, as I have been unable to locate your product in any store in this city, and cannot do without it at any cost. I spent about $100.00 several years ago, trying to remedy 'barber's itch.' Finally, as a last resort, I was persuaded to use your soap, which brought immediate results. At the small price thereof, I have recommended it to all my friends as 'best ever' for shampoo and other skin diseases, but they also seemed to be unable to secure it here. Just received the last cake away today to a friend, one of the many unfortunate who could not locate the product."

COMING ATTRACTIONS AT THE AUDITORIUM

Monday, September 2, matinee and evening, Paul Gilmore in "The Havoc."

Thursday, September 4, "Divorce Question."

Saturday, September 6, Matt & Jeff in "Panama."

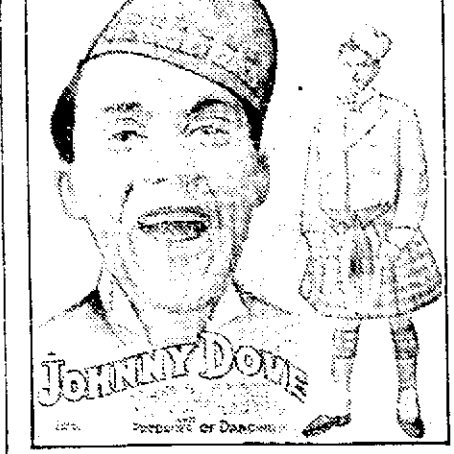

Tuesday, September 9, "Officer 666."

"The Candy Shop."

Catherine Hayes has often been referred to as one of the few women on the stage with a sense of humor. A few well known actresses have it to more or less limited extent, notably May Irwin, Marie Dressler and Cecelia Loftus, and hence their success is not far to seek. Miss Hayes has been called a composite of all three of these and she will have the leading comedy role with "The Candy Shop" when that new musical review is presented on Monday, September 1st, at the Hartman theatre, Columbus, by the Anderson gaily company, for one week.

Field's Minstrels.

Al. G. Field's Minstrels at the Hartman theatre, Columbus, Aug.

28-29-30, with Saturday matinee, will have a scenic production description of the ceremonies attending the opening of the Panama canal.

Auditorium Opens Labor Day With Paul Gilmore in "The Havoc."

The engagement of Paul Gilmore's Associate Players will be at the Auditorium theatre, Monday, September 1. "The Havoc" is a tense, gripping drama, built upon the story of a duel of wits between an injured husband and a treacherous guest in his home. The big role of the play, the husband, offers one of the most convincing characters seen on the stage in recent years and is played with quiet power and tense nervous force.

The scenes of "The Havoc" are softened by brilliant ironical comedy that makes the author's sacrilegious sharp, sparkle and burn.

This is a guaranteed attraction and will be the event of the season.

Mutt and Jeff in Panama.

In the latest Guss Hill production, "Mutt and Jeff in Panama," which comes to the Auditorium on Saturday, September 6, it is believed that the acme of stage perfection has been reached. Here we have an offering which is unique in many ways. It is a combination of farce, melodrama and musical comedy with enough plot and interest to lift it a notch or two above the ordinary play.

"Mutt and Jeff" are too well known to need further introduction to local patrons of the theatre. The music and lyrics are by Leo Edwards and Will H. Cobb, who have supplied plenty of song hits, dances and ensemble features. There will be no increase in prices.

Pennant Hopes of Mack's Athletics Wane; Eleven Are Off Duty

Chicago, Aug. 23.—"Connie Mack's hospital squad" today numbered eleven men. Three of them were in Philadelphia where they will remain until the Athletics get home. Two of the cripples—Catcher Gehring with a bad spike out on his foot and Thomas, with a split finger—will have to stay in the hard western campaign because Catcher Lapp, suffering from a more seriously injured hand, was forced to abandon the trip with Infielder Orr and Outfielder Strunk, the former with an injured hand and the latter ill.

Danny Murphy, utility man, has been sick in bed for several days. Barry has been out because of illness, though he is expected to join the team soon, and Pitcher Plank was reported ill. Pitcher Bush stuck his thumb into a hard liner and probably will not take his turn on the hill for some time and Brown is suffering from a serious cold contracted in Detroit. Pitcher Combs, as has been the case all season, is still out of the game, although he is said to be recovering.

GAS DERRICK AT BUCKEYE LAKE FELL WITH CRASH

Considerable confusion was occasioned by the falling of a gas derrick on Bounds farm near Buckeye Lake Friday afternoon. Several persons narrowly escaped injury.

The gas derrick stands near the lake front. The workmen were endeavoring to extricate a drill which had caught. The strain on the machinery upset the derrick which toppled over. Fortunately no one was standing in the direction of its flight.

Philadelphia, Dec. 6, 1912. — "In December 1908, my face became sore. I tried everything that was recommended, and my face got worse instead of better. I spent over $100 and got no benefit. The face and nose were very red and the eruption had the appearance of small boils, which itched me terribly. I cannot tell you how terrible my face looked all I can say is, it was dreadful, and I suffered beyond description.

EAGLES WILL OCCUPY NEW HOME SOON

Licking aerie, No. 387, Fraternal Order of Eagles, will within a few days move into their own home, on East Main street, opposite the Sherwood hotel.

This property was purchased by the local aerie about five years ago and consists of a modern residence of sixteen rooms. Extensive alterations are being made in the interior of the building, a force of mechanics having been at work for several days.

The entire interior is being refinished and decorated throughout to suit the needs for the lodge and club rooms. On the second floor will be located the lodge meeting room, the reading room and rooms for the use of the officers.

The first floor will be given over to the club features and a considerable amount of new furniture and fixtures will be added, which will make the new Eagle home a very comfortable and inviting place.

The building has been wired throughout for electricity and a large electric sign will be placed in front of the building.

For several years the local aerie has occupied quarters for the lodge and club rooms on the south side of the square.

Ever since the organization of the local aerie, it has been very successful, and when located in their own home, it will have accomplished the lofty ambition of owning and equipping a home of their own, entirely free of debt. The membership of the local organization now numbers 500 members, among whom are some of the most prominent citizens of Newark, and the following are the officers for the current year:

Past. Worthy President—John Stapleton.
Worthy President—Charles A. Duerr.

Licking Delegate Writes of Convention Held at Zurich

The following letter has been received from Miss Clarice Carroll a Licking county delegate to the World's Sunday School convention being held in Switzerland:

"Our steamer 'Scotian' left Montreal in the very early morning of July 22, 1913, with 241 delegates bound for the World's Convention in Zurich. We spent the days preceding the convention in Paris and the Swiss Alps. Busy and delightful days they were after the rest and inaction on shipboard. I was proud of Ohio's representation at Zurich. We had 94 delegates, the fourth state in size of delegation. In all there were 2600 delegates and 5 A furnished 1344 of them.

The convention was preeminently a missionary convention. Six great commissions, appointed months before to study the needs of the new Christian World, reported the strategic opportunities and the dire needs of these fields. The convention promptly responded by raising $125,000 for a forward movement campaign in the six fields during the next three years.

One of the most enthusiastic moments of the great convention was when the 2600 delegates unanimously

WARNES BILL
REFORMS VALUES FOR TAXATION

Efforts made by previous governors of Ohio to correct defects in the taxing system of the state bear out the charge that the present fight against the Warnes State Tax Commission law is a move by millionaire tax dodgers to keep personal property of the duplicate, so that farmers and home owners will continue to pay more than their share.

The enactment of the Warnes law is an achievement that could not be accomplished during the administrations of former Governors McKinley and Judson Harmon. Both favored duplicates of the Warnes bill as means for reducing the taxes on real estate and compelling owners of personal property to pay more.

A. C. Thompson, Theodore Cook, W. N. Cowden and E. A. Angell, a commission appointed by former Governor McKinley to suggest tax remedies, reported in part as follows on December 23, 1893: "It may be remarked that the listing system in Ohio is one which has been abandoned in many other parts of the world. The assessment lists used in Germany in medieval times (1351) were like those now in vogue in Ohio. All this has been abandoned everywhere in Europe."

Here is the remedy suggested: "Experience teaches that the most effective way of securing just assessment is to place the assessing power in the hands of capable, disinterested and independent agents (independent in the sense of being removed from the immediate influence of popular favor or displeasure) whose compensation and term of service will justify them in giving, if necessary, their entire time to the work."

This is just what the Warnes bill will do.

When former Governor Harmon launched his fight for tax reforms he presented three bills to the general assembly; one was the Smith one per cent act, the second, The Hollinger State Tax Commission measure, and the third was the Edwards bill, which was a duplicate of the Warnes law. The Smith one per cent rate law established a base of economy. The Hollinger bill provided means for getting an adequate valuation of public service corporation property, which had been grossly undervalued, and also secured necessary administrative provisions. These two were passed. The Edwards bill was intended to get a force of appointive assessors, which could be relied upon to get an adequate valuation of personal property. Governor Harmon called this bill the key to the whole situation, but it was defeated. Real estate was on the duplicate, personal property was not. The Edwards bill was to provide means to get the personal property out of hiding. Now Governor Cox has an identical measure to the Edwards bill in the general code.

VIEWS OF AN OLD TIME DEMOCRAT

Senator James P. Seward of Mansfield, was one of the conspicuous figures at the recent Legislative reunion at Cedar Point. Being a Democrat of the original Thomas Jefferson type and a valued adviser in Democratic councils for many years, expressions of his views on public questions and present issues are of interest to Democratic thinkers.

Senator Seward was interviewed by the representatives of a number of newspapers who attended the Cedar Point reunion. Among other matters discussed the Senator gave expression to the following views:

"I am against a small Legislature," said Senator Seward. "Every county in this state should have a representative, no matter what its population. Now, I am a liberal on principle, and the idea that I must vote for a measure just because it will subvert a particular interest is most repugnant to me."

Expressing his opinion on the initiative and referendum, Senator Seward said that the present exposures come as no surprise to him.

"When you convince me that 1,200,000 electors can make better laws than 139 men in the General Assembly then I'll subscribe to the I. and R. When the Legislature meets you can have your eyes on representatives of a special privilege or interest, but when their work is scattered over a state you will have secret lobbying everywhere. These men may be spreading corruption through the body of our citizenship and undermining their faith in our institutions. The people will get right when they are properly informed. We are having today in this sorry sordid mess that spreads its poison in every direction an awakener of whose effects you will hear later."

Somehow or other, the efforts of the Republicans in Congress to put the Administration "in a hole" are meeting with no success. The tariff bill is going through without much trouble, and the only anxiety of the country is to get the bill enacted as soon as possible and have all uncertainties removed. At first the currency bill looked promising to the Republicans, but they are growing discouraged over that, and no sooner does some roorback from Mexico cheer them up than the truth follows and they are again in the dumps. Sooner or later they will have to confess that they are not the only people who can govern the country. They have no monopoly of political sagacity and have promoted special privileges for the few instead of the welfare of the masses.

On Second Thought

A clever woman is one who permits a man to talk about himself.

Proceed upon the theory that a big league scout is looking you over and, eventually, one may arrive for that purpose.

Eph Wiley, who follows feminine fashions closely, says the nightgown is the only garment a modest woman can wear nowadays without blushing.

If it were not for our friends we should have nobody to gossip about.

The best proof of the assertion that two can live as cheaply as one is the fact that a lot of them do it.

It is the fate of practically every man to be patronized by his rich relatives and imposed upon by his poor relatives.

There was a theologian named Fiddle who refused to accept his decree. Said he it's enough to be fiddle without being Fiddle, D. D.

Every woman gives the impression that she would do something terrible if her husband should strike her. But so far as is known no woman ever did do anything.

The peeler walks his beat along the dusty street, with griefs that smart upon his heart, and shoe bolts on his feet. All day he tramps around and must be pleasant found when alecks come to talk him dumb and questions weird propound. He hears the alecks yawn: "Please tell us, Mr. Cop, when there's a team for Madrid, Spain, and how's the peanut crop? This weather's mighty strange; when do you think twill change? Why don't you help those dogs that yelp because they have the mange? Why don't you pinch that vag now coming with his jag? Why don't you climb that pole in time, and straighten out the flag? Why don't you clean the walks, and move that dry goods box that's in the way of every jay who travels down these blocks?" The peeler walks his beat on tired and foundered feet, and sadly sighs, "Dash blank my eyes, death would be passing sweet!" ## WARNES LAW MUST STAND

Administration's State Tax Commission Law Was Intended to Equalize Taxation by Adding Millions of Personal Property to the Duplicate. Kilpatrick Law Enacted to Strengthen Smith One Per Cent Tax Act.

Millersburg, O., Aug. 22.—Governor James M. Cox addressed the teachers of Holmes county, assembled at their annual institute at this place this morning, and in the afternoon the Grangers.

He elaborated on the importance of the Kilpatrick law to the country schools of the state. The statement was made that there is not a county in Ohio in which there are not school districts that are seriously embarrassed by the legislative condition which the Kilpatrick law corrects. The state tax commission has had brought to its attention the plight of many districts which are practically bankrupt. In many of the districts a surplus existed in 1910 and the levy was small. In one instance which was cited a levy had been in 1908 or 1909 for a new schoolhouse, but the board decided to abandon the project for the time. In 1910 no levy was made at all, the expense being met by using this surplus. Existing law imposes upon these districts the arbitrary duty of making a levy slightly in excess of the 1910 levy. If no levy at all was made in 1910, it can easily be seen what the continuous condition is. The Kilpatrick law does not disturb the limitation of the rate to 10 and 15 mills.

The 1910 limitation affects adversely more than 150 taxing districts in at least 59 of the counties. It prevents municipalities from branching out into other lines of improvement than those provided for or under way in 1910. It is top-sided in that it prevents the public from doing anything except the same things it used to do. It was a temporary expedient and never intended to be permanent. The taxpayer pays as much as he otherwise would pay, but he is prevented from paying for the thing he may want to have it most in 1910. The Kilpatrick law provided a means of giving the schools representation on the budget commission. It removes the only valid objection to the Smith 1 per cent tax law, and absolutely secures its permanency.

Taking up the creation of the state tax commission and the uniform success it has achieved as a base for the belief that precisely the same principle should be adopted in the local subdivisions, the governor said:

"Believing that there are certain forms of taxable property, the assessment of which should be removed from local political and other influences, the legislature in 1910 created the state tax commission, and, among other duties, imposed upon it the assessment of public utilities for taxation. The objection was made at the time that centralizing such power was a menace to the people, would result in the building of a 'machine,' and that it removed from the people the right to select their own officers to assess public utilities within the borders of their own county, or the corporate limits of their own cities and villages. Several commissions appointed to investigate the subject in prior years had reported favorably to this plan, but the objection quoted operated to retard its fruition for several years. This centralized power has been in operation three years; the assessment of public utilities has been entirely removed from the influence surrounding elective officers. Would any one now go back to the old system? Formerly these assessments were made by local assessing officials and boards of such officials composed of taxing officers of the counties through which or into which these public utilities operated lines. Every citizen remembers the old days of railroad passes, banquets, of winings and dinings, or midnight revelry, and of junketing to foreign cities, where entertainment of a more or less uplifting character was provided for the sojourning officials. To such extent was this species of bribery and corruption carried that it became a public scandal.

"The result as it appears on the tax duplicate is easily detected to have been profitable to those whose property was being assessed under such auspices, especially when compared with present assessments. For example, the principal railroad in Holmes county, the Cleveland, Akron & Cincinnati, was assessed in your county under the elective assessing system at $317,330. The assessment of this company in 1913 in Holmes county is $1,788,940, or nearly six times what it was under the elective plan. The Cleveland, Wooster & Muskingum was formerly assessed at $13,751. It is now assessed at $76,180—six times greater than under the elective system. The Pittsburg, Ft. Wayne & Chicago, the Toledo, Columbus & Ohio River, and the Wheeling & Lake Erie maintain substantially the same average.

"Your farm lands under the old system were assessed at between 50 and 60 per cent of their value. The homes of your laboring people and of your middle class citizens generally were assessed at from 60 to 70 per cent, and some of them as high as 80 per cent of their value. Why should the farmer and the home owner pay on an assessment of from 50 to 70 per cent while the railroads paid on an assessment of from 15 to 25 per cent? "The creation of the state tax commission was the first step in securing an equitable distribution of the tax burdens. The Warnes law, dealing with personal property of individuals, is the second and even more necessary step. Yet it is confronted with the same objection that was met when the state tax commission was proposed. It is said that the state is taking away from the property holders the right to select their own assessors. The results achieved by the tax commission in the assessment of public utilities is an earnest of the design of the state with reference to the assessment of personal property. The increased value of public utilities is largely intangible, and it is the intangible personal property that is sought to be uncovered by the Warnes law. It has been proved conclusively that this form of property can not be brought to light by assessors whose tenure of office depends upon the favor of those whose property they assess. Just as every dollar of intangible value of the Cleveland, Akron & Cincinnati railway which was put on the duplicate of your county decreased the burden of the farmer and the small home owner, so will every dollar of intangible personal property to be placed on the duplicate by the operation of the Warnes law further decrease that burden.

"While it is not flaunted in the face of the people with the same degree of abandon, there is underlying the present assessment of personal property just as much noxious scandal as obtained under the old system of assessing public utilities. There is more evasion, there is an excess of falsehood, and three years after the Warnes law is in operation the people of this state would no more return to the present perjury-fostering system than they would now return to the old system of taxing other property.

"The commission appointed by Governor McKinley made its basic recommendation in these words: "Experience teaches that the most effective way of securing just assessments is to place the assessing machinery in the hands of capable, disinterested and independent agents (independent in the sense of being removed from the immediate influence of popular favor or displeasure), whose compensation and term of service will justify them in giving, if necessary, their entire time to the work."

"So far as I know, the only man in Ohio who has ever sought to discuss taxation with any degree of understanding and who now objects to the Warnes bill is Allen R. Foote of the Ohio State Board of Commerce. "In his publication, the Ohio Journal of Commerce, he wrote in 1911 as follows:

"To expect 2,541 elected, inexperienced assessors to make a correct assessment of all real property in Ohio within a period of six months betrays a childish confidence in the infallibility of elected officials which the mind of primitive man might be capable of entertaining, but which has no reasonable place in this enlightened age."

"In the same publication, in speaking of the personal property assessors under the present system giving two months of their time to perform their work, Mr. Foote says: 'There is another exhibition of child-like faith in the omniscience of elected officials. The present system of assessment work is chaotic. No other result can reasonably be expected. A correct assessment of property for taxation has never been made in Ohio. The selection of assessors by election is a misapplication of the true function of popular government. The custom of electing assessors and giving them short terms of service should be abandoned. "The conditions of which Mr. Foote complained two years ago still exist. The remedy which he suggested then is afforded by the Warnes law. Mr. Foote favored the Warnes law two years ago. He opposes it now. His plaint now is that the centralized power of appointing taxing officials will create a political machine.

ing of the personal property assessors under the present system giving two months of their time to perform their work, Mr. Foote says: 'There is another exhibition of child-like faith in the omniscience of elected officials. The present system of assessment work is chaotic. No other result can reasonably be expected. A correct assessment of property for taxation has never been made in Ohio. The selection of assessors by election is a misapplication of the true function of popular government. The custom of electing assessors and giving them short terms of service should be abandoned. "The conditions of which Mr. Foote complained two years ago still exist. The remedy which he suggested then is afforded by the Warnes law. Mr. Foote favored the Warnes law two years ago. He opposes it now. His plaint now is that the centralized power of appointing taxing officials will create a political machine.

"On the first of January in this state the tax listing organization will go under the civil service. Under the old spoils system Mr. Foote was not afraid of a machine. Under a modern civil service law he thinks one may be created. If Mr. Foote has undergone such a complete change of sentiment in two years, then the people of the state can not, with any degree of safety, follow his recommendations now. If his defect is not one of mental equipment, then he is open to the charge of inconsistency.

"The truth of the matter is that he is a part of the plan set on foot by the Equity association of Cleveland, which is spending untold thousands of dollars in the employment of Burns detectives to upset the humane workmen's compensation law and the Warnes and Kilpatrick measures. The present attitude of the Equity association in fleeing from the state house only yesterday, when the state of Ohio, by its secretary of state and attorney general, exhibited evidences of fraud and perjury perpetrated by its paid hirelings, makes it so disreputable in the public mind that any man who is associated with it is open to the charge of desiring to participate in its fabulous campaign fund."

You Live Better Than Kings of Old

By HOLLAND.

ALL the great rulers of the earth from King Solomon to Peter the Great were at a disadvantage compared with the citizens of today. Not one of them had a bathroom with a porcelain tub and modern plumbing in his palace. Not one of them used a safety razor, had an appetizing breakfast food, used a telephone or enjoyed the comforts of an electric light. All these are within the reach of rich and poor today. All are enjoyed by rich and poor. You are better off than Emperor Napoleon, Rameses II, or Louis XIV. You have conveniences they never imagined or dreamed about. Chief among them are the modern newspaper and its advertisements and the fact that they are advertised properly. You are not if you neglect to read the advertisements and to buy the articles that are advertised. Comforts, luxuries and necessities are offered to you in great profusion, and the fact that they are advertised properly that the articles are reliable.

Daddy's Bedtime Story — The Wood Folks Didn't Like This Picnic

JACK and Evelyn had been to a picnic, and, of course, that evening they told daddy all about it. "I'm glad you had such a good time," he said. "I hope the wood folks had no reason to complain of the picnic. Once upon a time some little boys and girls went to the woods to have a picnic. There were Johnny and Jimmy and Willie and Katie and Nellie and Margie. The boys carried the basket that held the picnic lunch. It was quite a large basket, too, for their mothers knew that boys and girls get hungry playing in the open air. Johnny put up a swing over a big tree, and it was then that Mrs. Squirrel noticed them. "Dear, dear," she said to Mr. Squirrel: "Just look at those children swinging that rope over our tree! What are they going to do—build a nest here?" "No, no, my dear!" he answered. "They call that a swing. One of the children will get in it, and the rest will push him as high as they can." "How odd!" Mrs. Squirrel answered. "I shouldn't think it would be at all safe. Don't the children fall off?" "Oh, not very often!" The little human children have hands something like Mr. Possum and Mr. Coon, and they can hold on to the rope." The swing shook the tree so that Mrs. Woodpecker came to her door. Mr. Owl poked up his head to see who was making all the noise and spelling his nap. The robins and the jay birds and the wrens hopped about, peering down at the picnickers. "Presently Mr. Crow came flopping along through the air. He circled round the tree, and then he perched on the top branch. "A picnic," cawed he, "always means something good to eat!" "By and by the children opened their basket. My, but there were good things in it! There were sandwiches and cake and pie and fruit and nuts and candies. Mr. and Mrs. Squirrel and their children chimed with delight, the little birds twittered, and Mr. Crow cawed. But the children were so busy eating that they never noticed. "And what do you think? These children ate every bite of the good things in the basket. When they went home there were only a few crumbs on the ground, and these the birds gobbled down in an instant. "Funny kind of picnic that," Mr. Crow cawed. "They came in here and gnawed our woods without a single bite, and then they go home without giving us a bite of their good time." And off he flew to rob a cornfield, while the little woodpeckers went to bed much disappointed."

Board of Directors,
The Newark Trust Company,
Newark, Ohio.

Gentlemen:

In accordance with instructions received, we have examined the books of account and record of THE NEWARK TRUST COMPANY, NEWARK, OHIO, and submit herewith Statement of Condition as of the commencement of business August 1, 1913.

We made an actual count of the Cash on hand before the commencement of business on that date, and fully verified the balances on deposit with banks by direct communication. All cash on hand and with banks was fully accounted for according to the records.

All recorded Loans and Discounts were verified by an actual inspection of the notes and collateral on file. In addition we corresponded with borrowers having loans of $1,000.00 and over and with all borrowers with collateral pledged. No discrepancies were reported. All notes secured by Real Estate Mortgages were examined in detail and in addition we found from the records at Recorders' offices in Licking and adjoining counties that all mortgages were on record and uncanceled.

We fully accounted for all securities owned by an actual inventory and inspection of those on file and by correspondence with the holders of securities held for safekeeping or pledged to secure deposits of Public Funds and for Trusts Assumed.

All depositors' accounts were listed by us and the aggregate found to agree with your records. During the course of our examination we compared all pass books or other evidence of deposit submitted to us with the records and found no discrepancies.

We found the affairs of your bank under the active supervision of your Board of Directors and Executive Committee with efficient officials in charge.

WE HEREBY CERTIFY that we have examined the books of account and record of THE NEWARK TRUST COMPANY, NEWARK, OHIO, as outlined herein, and that, in our opinion, based upon the records, the Statement of Condition submitted herewith is drawn up so as to correctly set forth the Resources and Liabilities of the bank before the commencement of business August 1st, 1913.

Very truly yours,

ERNST & ERNST,

OHIO ELECTRIC

MEN'S OUTING

The local organization of the Ohio Electric employees in conjunction with members from Columbus and Zanesville will hold an outing at Buckeye Lake Park on Thursday, August 28.

Arrangements have been completed for an interesting program and among the prizes will be a $5 diamond ring in printing the tickets through an error the union label was omitted, this is causing some trouble in their disposal, however they were printed as a union shop.

Watch Jewels.

Each watch jewel is shaped to a circle and bored through the center, each boring being just a little less than the diameter of the pinion used in the factory where it is finally to be placed in the upper or lower plate of a watch.

Before the jewel gets to the setter it has been put into a lathe and by means of a minute steel point covered with diamond dust and oil the center has been enlarged to fit the steel pinions which shall be housed in it. In the hands of the setter the cylinder is put into a lathe. With a moistened finger the jewel is picked up and placed inside the cylinder as it rests on the tip of the revolving lathe shaft.

With a pointed tool the setter presses against the revolving cylinder edge, forcing the soft metal to overlap and close upon the sapphire or ruby till it is imbedded firmly in the metal cushion. Then a pressure upon a follower at the other end of the lathe brings a cutter to bear upon the metal circumference, turning it to the exact size of the jewel hole in the plate of the watch, with the hole in the center of the jewel exactly in the center of the metal setting.

Weekly Outing of Algerian Ladies.

On Friday in Algiers I visited the cemetery of El Kettar, a great map who is worshipped as a saint. The cemetery where his body reposes is the one place in all Algiers where the women of the harems can feel the fresh air of heaven on their faces. And that is allowed only once a week, on Friday, when they are permitted to unveil and sit and chat together within the cemetery precincts. It was a curious sight as I entered, and it suggested resurrection morn. Fully fifty shrouded white figures were scattered about the grounds, sitting on graves, their bodies and heads covered by white robes, but their faces partly revealed. There was a small percentage of pretty faces and those belonged to the very young women. The middle aged were plain, with that plainness which proceeds from a dull mind and an uneventful life.—Ella Wheeler Wilcox in National Magazine.

Carlyle and the Book of Job.

Carlyle was once asked to take the reading at family prayers during a short visit paid to his friend, the provost of Kilkenny. The Bible chanced to open at the first chapter of the book of Job, and Carlyle immediately became absorbed in his subject and read on and on to the end of the last chapter, when, closing the volume, he remarked:

"That is a marvelous lifelike drama, only to be appreciated when read right through."

It is fair to infer that it was appreciated for once. Any one who has taken a long, solitary afternoon and attempted to give the book of Job an opportunity to be appreciated by reading it honestly through at one sitting can realize the consternation of the provost. Such a one will not be likely to wonder with Carlyle why he was not asked again to assist at family prayers in that household.

Peg Woffington's Farewell.

Peg Woffington was playing Rosalind at Covent Garden on the night of May 17, 1757, for the benefit of two minor actors and a French dancer, when she was overcome with sudden faintness. She struggled bravely on until the end, when she staggered off the stage. Recovering after a few moments, she came forward to speak the epilogue, but had proceeded no further than "If I were among you I would kiss as many of you as had heads that pleased me, complexions that looked like mine and breaths that I"—when, exclaiming in agony, "O God! O God!" she collapsed in a heap upon the floor. She never returned to the stage.—London Globe.

Glycerin and Shoes.

The labor of boot cleaning may be greatly decreased by the aid of a little glycerin. Brush the boots free from dust; then rub the glycerin well into the leather with a sponge or cloth; then let them nearly dry and brush them with a soft brush. If the boots have been blackened it will give them an excellent polish. If not it will give them the appearance of being new. They will be found to keep their polished state for at least three or four days by simply brushing them occasionally. It not only keeps them a good color, but makes them soft and comfortable.—New York Journal.

Encouragement.

"What's the matter?"
"What's the matter? Wombat says I'm the worst liar in town."

"Don't be discouraged. You may be the worst now, but anybody who keeps at it as persistently as you do is apt to become a pretty good liar in time."

Louisville Courier-Journal.

Trade Tactics.

"The young fellow who's coming to see you, Elsie, must be a lawyer."

"What makes you think that, father?"

"Because I notice whenever he comes to court he always pleads for a stay."—Baltimore American.

Did His Best.

Judge—Did you look to see whether you had killed any one?

Chauffeur—Yes, your honor. I looked in all the morning papers.—New York Times.

Watch Your Words.

One of the best rules in conversation is never to say a word which any of the company can reasonably wish had been left unsaid.—Swift.

The consciousness of duty performed gives us music at midnight.—George Horner.

COURT NEWS
Though reticent on many matters, the British officers just released from a German fortress agreed in one matter. They found two meals a day sufficient. In England people are sometimes addicted to five-breakfast, lunch, tea, dinner and supper. The continental fashion is a snack for morning coffee, a midday meal and an evening meal. But when the great army of Xerxes was marching through Asia Minor and city after city had to provide food for the day, the people thanked God that Xerxes and his army ate but once a day.

First Things
The first president of the United States of Brazil was Manuel Deodoro da Fonseca, who died 21 years ago today. During the empire he was a soldier, and took part in the war with Paraguay. Afterwards he was placed in charge of the powder magazines in Rio de Janeiro, and while there formed a military club, which was used to spread republican doctrine, with which Fonseca had become imbued. He was so powerful that Emperor Dom Pedro II did not dare to openly accuse him of being a traitor, but instead he sent him to Mato-Grasso as governor. His removal from the capital did not deprive him of influence or stifle the growth of republicanism, and in 1889 the army turned against the emperor and his expulsion and the proclamation of the republic followed. Fonseca was the popular hero of Brazil and was made provisional president, serving in that capacity until he was regularly elected to the office. He proved to be a self-seeking and tyrannical ruler, and almost immediately dissolved congress and proclaimed himself dictator. A revolt soon followed, and he was forced to resign, and was succeeded by Vice-President Piexoto.

Gentlemen:

In accordance with instructions received, we have examined the books of account and record of THE NEWARK TRUST COMPANY, NEWARK, OHIO, and submit herewith Statement of Condition as of the commencement of business August 1, 1913.

We made an actual count of the Cash on hand before the commencement of business on that date, and fully verified the balances on deposit with banks by direct communication. All cash on hand and with banks was fully accounted for according to the records.

All recorded Loans and Discounts were verified by an actual inspection of the notes and collateral on file. In addition we corresponded with borrowers having loans of $1,000.00 and over and with all borrowers with collateral pledged. No discrepancies were reported. All notes secured by Real Estate Mortgages were examined in detail and in addition we found from the records at Recorders' offices in Licking and adjoining counties that all mortgages were on record and uncanceled.

We fully accounted for all securities owned by an actual inventory and inspection of those on file and by correspondence with the holders of securities held for safekeeping or pledged to secure deposits of Public Funds and for Trusts Assumed.

All depositors' accounts were listed by us and the aggregate found to agree with your records. During the course of our examination we compared all pass books or other evidence of deposit submitted to us with the records and found no discrepancies.

We found the affairs of your bank under the active supervision of your Board of Directors and Executive Committee with efficient officials in charge.

WE HEREBY CERTIFY that we have examined the books of account and record of THE NEWARK TRUST COMPANY, NEWARK, OHIO, as outlined herein, and that, in our opinion, based upon the records, the Statement of Condition submitted herewith is drawn up so as to correctly set forth the Resources and Liabilities of the bank before the commencement of business August 1st, 1913.
